

First Christmas Handkerchiefs 25c Grades 17c For

While East last week our buyer bought 1,500 dozen Handkerchiefs at a very unusual price. In the lot are white Swiss hemstitched and embroidered designs in fleur de lis, butterfly and other patterns. Also scalloped and embroidered lines of many kinds, as well as a broken lot of cross-barred shamrock initial and cross-barred colored border designs. Choice, 17c, or 6 for $1.00. Regular 25c and 35c grades.

John & Sons Co.

due as a result of the shooting, and considerable apprehension is felt for her.

Murphy Capable Officer.

William Murphy had been on the police force for about six years. He was known as one of the best officers in the department, and was highly esteemed by his superiors and hundreds of friends. He was 38 years of age, and survived by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, Sr., two brothers, John and Andrew, and two sisters, Helen and Mary. He was a member of St. Cecilia's church, and the funeral services will be held there at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. The Rev. Father A. J. Brady will officiate and the burial will be in St. Louis cemetery.

Besides his wife Ziegler has an eight-year-old daughter. He had been married for nearly two years, and has been separated from his wife since last June. Mrs. Ziegler said that she first met Richard at a church picnic last July. She said also that her husband had made up his mind to leave her and was preparing to go back to housekeeping.

FILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure cases of itching, blind, bleeding or protruding files in 6 to 14 days. Price refunded. 5c.

WORKS OF ART

GILBERT WHITE PLACES LUNETTES IN NEW CAPITOL.

Tells the Story of Boone and His Companions in Two Historical Scenes.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—After months of work in his studio in Paris, Gilbert White to-day had the satisfaction of seeing his Lunettes put in place in the new Capitol, and of knowing that the work meets with the approval of the members of the Capitol Commission, who have seen the paintings. Mr. White put up the paintings on Sunday, because that was the only day that he could shut out visitors from the Capitol, and he did not want to work with crowd watching him. The Lunettes have been placed over the entrance to the House and Senate. Mr. White, the artist, gave the following statement about the painting to the Courier-Journal correspondent this afternoon.

I have just finished and am placing my work in the new Capitol building. I have chosen the beginning of things historical as appropriate for the entrance to the House of Representatives, the beginning of things legislative.

The picture shows Boone and his companions as they have emerged from the cave at the close of day on a blizzards overlooking the valley of the Kentucky River. Below them are the broken wilderness. They have paused prior to continuing their journey, struck by the wonder of the fertile country of their discovery.

For the entrance to the Senate I have depicted the first deliberative body to meet in the history of the State—the Treaty of Wapak, at which the land Kentucky was bought from the Cherokees by Boone and Henderson in the name of the Transylvania Company for $50,000.

Dragage Canoe, the young Indian chief, making his famous oration, ending with the prophetic sentence: "You have bought a beautiful land, but it is a dark and bloody ground, and you will have great difficulty in settling it."

Thinking the Courier-Journal for its courteous interest. GILBERT WHITE.

MEMPHIS MAN TO SPEAK AT ELKS' MEMORIAL

The annual memorial services of the Louisville Lodge of B. P. O. Elks will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening of Sunday, December 5, at the Elks' Home on Walnut street, between Third and Fourth avenues. The principal address will be delivered by A. Grant Matthews, of Memphis. T. J. Matthews is a member and clerk of the United States Court at Memphis. A splendid musical program will be given on the occasion. J. S. Phelps, Jr., is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Hereafter the memorial services have been held in the day, usually the afternoon, but it was thought best to conduct them at night this time. Services are usually held by every lodge in the world on the same day.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

B. W. H. on every box 25c

NOTHING GAINED BY COURT ORDER

Standard Oil Trust Unhurt, Say Attorneys.

Government Victory More Apparent Than Real.

Lawyers On Both Sides of Same Opinion.

MAY GO ON AS BEFORE.

New York, Nov. 21.—Motimer F. Elliott, general counsel for the Standard Oil Company, said to-day in commenting for the first time on the decision against the company handed down yesterday by the United States Circuit Court at St. Paul:

"I have seen what purports to be the text of the decree handed down by the United States Circuit Court yesterday. The company will take an appeal immediately to the United States Supreme Court and will cheerfully abide by the verdict of the highest court in the land, whatever that may be.

"Argument in this case began last April and we are glad to reach a conclusion. I do not mean that we are pleased with the opinion itself, but that we are glad to get it, whatever its nature.

"Disolution Not Ordered.

"The decree does not order a dissolution of the Standard Oil Company. That is a misstatement. What the decree orders, as I now understand it, is that the company shall distribute among its stockholders, of whom there are approximately 5,000, holdings in the stock of subsidiary companies. This distribution, I further understand, is ordered to be effected on a pro rata basis of apportionment. That is to say, the heaviest holders of Standard Oil stock would receive a proportional number of shares in the stock of subsidiary companies."

Mr. Elliott was asked what course the company would adopt if the verdict of the lower court should be upheld in the higher court.

"Not Ready To Answer.

"That," he said, "is something I shall be better prepared to discuss when I have seen the opinion by which the United States Circuit Court justifies its decision."

Henry Wollman, who represented the Attorney General of Missouri in that State's suit against the Standard Oil Company and conducted the examination in New York of officers of the company, takes a view similar to that expressed by Mr. Elliott. He said the situation as a theoretical victory.

No Practical Effect.

"I cannot see," he said, "that any practical effect is to be expected. It seems as if the best the Government can do is to order the sale of the property and in that case the most of course goes to the present stockholders, in some form or another. There is no confiscation, no punishment, as there would be in the case of a criminal proceeding with the imposition of a fine."

"The case seems to be very similar to that of the coal roads, which were ordered to separate from the coal business, and it is difficult to see, even if the decision is upheld by the Supreme Court, how the case will prevent the control of Standard Oil properties remaining in the same hands, even if it is split up into its constituent properties. This has been the case in the past in which the law has compelled the dissolution of combinations, and they have simply been going along more compactly than ever."

Conference of Council.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Meritz Rosenthal, who represented the Standard Oil Company as special counsel throughout the recent trial, left here to-day for New York. Joseph Moses, his partner, said that Mr. Rosenthal's trip to the East was on a matter foreign to the Standard Oil Company's case. Mr. Moses added, however, that there probably would be a conference of the Standard Oil Company counsel before Mr. Rosenthal left New York.

Called to Washington.

United States Attorneys To Consider Standard Oil Decision.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Edwin W. Sims, United States District Attorney, who was one of the prosecuting attorneys in the case before Judge K. M. Landis when the Standard Oil Company was fined $25,000 for alleged violations of the Elkins rebate law, and his assistant, James H. Wilkeson, left for Washington to-day. It is presumed that they are going to the capital on business connected with the recent decision against the Standard Oil Company.

John S. Miller, one of the Standard Oil Company's attorneys, while positive that the case would be taken before the United States Supreme Court, refused to make any further statement to-day.

Philadelphia Union Workmen May Strike.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—A conference as to the advisability of calling off 60,000 union workmen of this city and general strike will be held to-morrow between William J. Spencer, secretary of the United States Court at Philadelphia. A splendid musical program will be given on the occasion. J. S. Phelps, Jr., is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Hereafter the memorial services have been held in the day, usually the afternoon, but it was thought best to conduct them at night this time. Services are usually held by every lodge in the world on the same day.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

B. W. H. on every box 25c

First National Bank OF LOUISVILLE.

OLDEST NATIONAL BANK IN THE SOUTH

CAPITAL - - $500,000.00
SURPLUS - - $200,000.00

OFFICERS:
Embry L. Swearingen,
Chairman of the Board of Directors.
James B. Brown,
President.
DIRECTORS:
W. J. Abrams,
G. W. Adams,
L. R. Atwood,
James B. Brown,
Helm Bruce,
Thomas W. Bullitt,
William Marshall Bullitt,
J. E. Caldwell,
Basil Doehoefer,
R. T. Durrett,
E. S. Monahan,
Jeff D. Stewart,
G. H. Stockhoff,
Embry L. Swearingen,
Fifth and Main.

INTEREST OF HIGHER EDUCATION IN STATE

KENTUCKY COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES INCORPORATE.

REPORT OF LEXINGTON LOOSE LEAF MARKET.

GETS CALL FOR BLOODHOUNDS

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the Fayette County Clerk by the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities. The incorporators are: President James K. Patterson, of State University; President R. H. Crossfield, Transylvania University; Dr. Archibald Throckmorton, Central University; President Arthur T. Newson, College of Prof. George N. Ellis, Berea College, and Prof. John J. Tigert, Kentucky Wesleyan College.

The object of the corporation is "to constitute a bond of union between the colleges and universities of Kentucky in the case of the interests of higher education in the State." It has the usual corporation officers and directors.

Capt. V. G. Mulliken, of Lexington, received a call last night from Lexington, a small village in Garrard county, to bring his bloodhounds to trail the furniture store of the home of George Kelly. Kelly, it appears, was away from home when the trouble occurred. Kelly was badly frightened, but only slightly injured. Kelly was taken to the hospital, but he is not expected to live.

The report of the local tobacco sales inspector in the loose leaf warehouses shows a total of 3,881,100 pounds sold since the first of the month. At an average price of $12.15 per 100. The sales for the week ending Nov. 21, 1909, at an average of $13.37.

Mr. C. F. Brower, for more than a quarter of a century one of the leading business men of Lexington, sole owner of the large furniture store of C. F. Brower & Co., incorporated, will sell out his business here and go to T. F. Wash, where his son now is in the furniture business.

CONGRESSMAN JAMES COMES TO LOUISVILLE FOR A DAY.

Representative-Elect Pogue Passes Through On Way To Frankfort.

Various indications, according to the Agricultural Department, point to a destructive outbreak of the chinch bug in the near future. Its destructive work in sucking the life out of growing wheat and corn caused great losses in 1899 to 1907. The losses in the past year were estimated at $350,000,000. Some effective methods are described by the department to eradicate the pest in case it makes its appearance next year.

To Reduce Canal Commission.

The next session of Congress is expected to legislate out of office a number of members of the present Isthmian Canal Commission. The commission, it is believed at the present time, is too large and could readily be reduced to three members without impairing its efficiency.

Sherley Kills Alligator.

A special cable from Panama says Representative Sherley, of Louisville, who, with other members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, is on the Isthmus investigating canal conditions, killed a fine specimen of alligator on a hunting trip yesterday. The teeth have been divided among members of the party as souvenirs.

Approves Designs For Postal Cards.

Designs for the new postal cards to be issued by the Government have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

On the ordinary card the head of the late President McKinley will appear, as now, but a much better likeness of the President will be used. The new card will be used for all purposes and for social correspondence, a series of President Lincoln will appear. The two-cent international card will bear a portrait of Gen. Grant.

A novel and pleasing innovation has been made for the dome or reply postal card. On one half will appear a portrait of George Washington and on the other or reply half a likeness of Martha Washington.

The paper to be used is the best for the purpose yet manufactured and will be a better than the paper now employed.

HOWARD, FAVORITE FOR MEXICAN DERBY, DIES.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Howard, a bay colt 2 years of age, by Odd Fellow-Nimrod, died in his stall at the Peraltilla racetrack here this morning. He was imported from the United States and is entered for the $25,000 Mexican Derby of 1910. He was held favorite in the future betting on that event. He was owned by George I. Ham, the American banker, who valued the colt at $10,000.

Sails To Confer With Castro.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 21.—The representative here of former President Castro of Venezuela has sailed for Spain to confer with Senor Castro relative to his business affairs.

Plunged Into DESPAIR AGAIN

(Continued From First Page.)

written by John Lorimer to his wife, Sadie.

Lorimer is a young Scotchman from Ayrshire, which country he left ten years ago. He is an experienced miner, and, like his wife, a constant attendant at church.

"He just laughs and says he will go back to the mine when he is well, although he is willing, after what has happened, to support himself in the way he would only get safer work," said Mrs. Lorimer before producing the letter. "Heaven knows how he has been a good man to me these three years we've been married. Never stepped beyond the door at night except on lodge night."

Lorimer's Letter.

As was the case at the house of each of the score of men rescued yesterday Lorimer received in his bedroom many callers, some of them relatives, and others who wished to congratulate him on his escape. Lorimer's letter, written in the face of death, as were the others, was a masterpiece of brevity.

Dear Wife: I am still living, although it is now 5 o'clock Sunday morning, and I have been in some grave danger. I am getting the best of us. There are twenty-one of us all together here. Dear wife, I tell you that when I am well, I will come to you. I will be a better man when you get over this let them know at home (Scotland). That is all, dear God bless you.

YOUR LOVING HUSBAND.

Ask For Band At Funeral.

One of the Pigati letters signed by the two brothers concludes with this wish: "We desire a band at our funeral and we wish to be buried one by the side of our mother."

Another portion of the letter refers to "our miserable tomb where five of us lie, although I do not know whether we shall ever emerge alive."

All of the farwell letters written were on pages torn from the time book which was given to the miners. It had the only lead pencil in the group and it was passed from hand to hand in order that all might have a chance to write.

One instance of the self-sacrifice of the more sturdy prisoners was related by Lorimer to-day.

Let the Weak Drink First.

"Waleinski—I think that was his name—was very weak and he was the weakest of our group," said Lorimer. "Our greatest suffering came from thirst, for only thinbills could be got from the duplicate ration of food. We had to let the weak drink first."

"We were all suffering from thirst, but we were not allowed to drink. We had to let the weak drink first."

Gov. Swanson For Congress.

An interesting bit of Virginia political gossip is to the effect that Gov. Claude Swanson will be a member of the Sixty-second Congress.

Laugh At Dickinson Joke.

Tennessee Democrats arriving in Washington just laugh when the story about Secretary of War Dickinson's coming the next day to see the President is repeated to them. None of them believe the Secretary has any serious idea that he could be elected as a member of the Legislature, at least, they hope he hasn't.

New German Insurance Law.

Consul Norton, at Chemnitz, is alarmed over the probable passing away of the "old family doctor" in Germany. It grows out of the new compulsory insurance law against accidents, sickness and death. The German workman contributes so much of his wages to insure himself against the anxiety of suffering, which accident, sickness and death, that he is naturally, physicians are enraged by the officials of insurance organizations, the workman not being left free to determine his own fate, who has attended him for years.

Outbreak of Chinch Bug.

Various indications, according to the Agricultural Department, point to a destructive outbreak of the chinch bug in the near future. Its destructive work in sucking the life out of growing wheat and corn caused great losses in 1899 to 1907. The losses in the past year were estimated at $350,000,000. Some effective methods are described by the department to eradicate the pest in case it makes its appearance next year.

To Reduce Canal Commission.

The next session of Congress is expected to legislate out of office a number of members of the present Isthmian Canal Commission. The commission, it is believed at the present time, is too large and could readily be reduced to three members without impairing its efficiency.

Sherley Kills Alligator.

A special cable from Panama says Representative Sherley, of Louisville, who, with other members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, is on the Isthmus investigating canal conditions, killed a fine specimen of alligator on a hunting trip yesterday. The teeth have been divided among members of the party as souvenirs.

Approves Designs For Postal Cards.

Designs for the new postal cards to be issued by the Government have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

On the ordinary card the head of the late President McKinley will appear, as now, but a much better likeness of the President will be used. The new card will be used for all purposes and for social correspondence, a series of President Lincoln will appear. The two-cent international card will bear a portrait of Gen. Grant.

Plunged Into DESPAIR AGAIN

(Continued From First Page.)

written by John Lorimer to his wife, Sadie.

Lorimer is a young Scotchman from Ayrshire, which country he left ten years ago. He is an experienced miner, and, like his wife, a constant attendant at church.

"He just laughs and says he will go back to the mine when he is well, although he is willing, after what has happened, to support himself in the way he would only get safer work," said Mrs. Lorimer before producing the letter. "Heaven knows how he has been a good man to me these three years we've been married. Never stepped beyond the door at night except on lodge night."

Lorimer's Letter.

As was the case at the house of each of the score of men rescued yesterday Lorimer received in his bedroom many callers, some of them relatives, and others who wished to congratulate him on his escape. Lorimer's letter, written in the face of death, as were the others, was a masterpiece of brevity.

Dear Wife: I am still living, although it is now 5 o'clock Sunday morning, and I have been in some grave danger. I am getting the best of us. There are twenty-one of us all together here. Dear wife, I tell you that when I am well, I will come to you. I will be a better man when you get over this let them know at home (Scotland). That is all, dear God bless you.

YOUR LOVING HUSBAND.

Ask For Band At Funeral.

One of the Pigati letters signed by the two brothers concludes with this wish: "We desire a band at our funeral and we wish to be buried one by the side of our mother."

Another portion of the letter refers to "our miserable tomb where five of us lie, although I do not know whether we shall ever emerge alive."

All of the farwell letters written were on pages torn from the time book which was given to the miners. It had the only lead pencil in the group and it was passed from hand to hand in order that all might have a chance to write.

One instance of the self-sacrifice of the more sturdy prisoners was related by Lorimer to-day.

Let the Weak Drink First.

"Waleinski—I think that was his name—was very weak and he was the weakest of our group," said Lorimer. "Our greatest suffering came from thirst, for only thinbills could be got from the duplicate ration of food. We had to let the weak drink first."

"We were all suffering from thirst, but we were not allowed to drink. We had to let the weak drink first."

Gov. Swanson For Congress.

An interesting bit of Virginia political gossip is to the effect that Gov. Claude Swanson will be a member of the Sixty-second Congress.

Laugh At Dickinson Joke.

Tennessee Democrats arriving in Washington just laugh when the story about Secretary of War Dickinson's coming the next day to see the President is repeated to them. None of them believe the Secretary has any serious idea that he could be elected as a member of the Legislature, at least, they hope he hasn't.

New German Insurance Law.

Consul Norton, at Chemnitz, is alarmed over the probable passing away of the "old family doctor" in Germany. It grows out of the new compulsory insurance law against accidents, sickness and death. The German workman contributes so much of his wages to insure himself against the anxiety of suffering, which accident, sickness and death, that he is naturally, physicians are enraged by the officials of insurance organizations, the workman not being left free to determine his own fate, who has attended him for years.

Outbreak of Chinch Bug.

Various indications, according to the Agricultural Department, point to a destructive outbreak of the chinch bug in the near future. Its destructive work in sucking the life out of growing wheat and corn caused great losses in 1899 to 1907. The losses in the past year were estimated at $350,000,000. Some effective methods are described by the department to eradicate the pest in case it makes its appearance next year.

To Reduce Canal Commission.

The next session of Congress is expected to legislate out of office a number of members of the present Isthmian Canal Commission. The commission, it is believed at the present time, is too large and could readily be reduced to three members without impairing its efficiency.

Sherley Kills Alligator.

A special cable from Panama says Representative Sherley, of Louisville, who, with other members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, is on the Isthmus investigating canal conditions, killed a fine specimen of alligator on a hunting trip yesterday. The teeth have been divided among members of the party as souvenirs.

Approves Designs For Postal Cards.

Designs for the new postal cards to be issued by the Government have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

On the ordinary card the head of the late President McKinley will appear, as now, but a much better likeness of the President will be used. The new card will be used for all purposes and for social correspondence, a series of President Lincoln will appear. The two-cent international card will bear a portrait of Gen. Grant.

Plunged Into DESPAIR AGAIN

(Continued From First Page.)

written by John Lorimer to his wife, Sadie.

Lorimer is a young Scotchman from Ayrshire, which country he left ten years ago. He is an experienced miner, and, like his wife, a constant attendant at church.

"He just laughs and says he will go back to the mine when he is well, although he is willing, after what has happened, to support himself in the way he would only get safer work," said Mrs. Lorimer before producing the letter. "Heaven knows how he has been a good man to me these three years we've been married. Never stepped beyond the door at night except on lodge night."

Lorimer's Letter.

As was the case at the house of each of the score of men rescued yesterday Lorimer received in his bedroom many callers, some of them relatives, and others who wished to congratulate him on his escape. Lorimer's letter, written in the face of death, as were the others, was a masterpiece of brevity.

Dear Wife: I am still living, although it is now 5 o'clock Sunday morning, and I have been in some grave danger. I am getting the best of us. There are twenty-one of us all together here. Dear wife, I tell you that when I am well, I will come to you. I will be a better man when you get over this let them know at home (Scotland). That is all, dear God bless you.

YOUR LOVING HUSBAND.

Ask For Band At Funeral.

One of the Pigati letters signed by the two brothers concludes with this wish: "We desire a band at our funeral and we wish to be buried one by the side of our mother."

Another portion of the letter refers to "our miserable tomb where five of us lie, although I do not know whether we shall ever emerge alive."

All of the farwell letters written were on pages torn from the time book which was given to the miners. It had the only lead pencil in the group and it was passed from hand to hand in order that all might have a chance to write.

One instance of the self-sacrifice of the more sturdy prisoners was related by Lorimer to-day.

Let the Weak Drink First.

"Waleinski—I think that was his name—was very weak and he was the weakest of our group," said Lorimer. "Our greatest suffering came from thirst, for only thinbills could be got from the duplicate ration of food. We had to let the weak drink first."

"We were all suffering from thirst, but we were not allowed to drink. We had to let the weak drink first."

Gov. Swanson For Congress.

An interesting bit of Virginia political gossip is to the effect that Gov. Claude Swanson will be a member of the Sixty-second Congress.

Laugh At Dickinson Joke.

Tennessee Democrats arriving in Washington just laugh when the story about Secretary of War Dickinson's coming the next day to see the President is repeated to them. None of them believe the Secretary has any serious idea that he could be elected as a member of the Legislature, at least, they hope he hasn't.

New German Insurance Law.

Consul Norton, at Chemnitz, is alarmed over the probable passing away of the "old family doctor" in Germany. It grows out of the new compulsory insurance law against accidents, sickness and death. The German workman contributes so much of his wages to insure himself against the anxiety of suffering, which accident, sickness and death, that he is naturally, physicians are enraged by the officials of insurance organizations, the workman not being left free to determine his own fate, who has attended him for years.

Outbreak of Chinch Bug.

Various indications, according to the Agricultural Department, point to a destructive outbreak of the chinch bug in the near future. Its destructive work in sucking the life out of growing wheat and corn caused great losses in 1899 to 1907. The losses in the past year were estimated at $350,000,000. Some effective methods are described by the department to eradicate the pest in case it makes its harvest as this fall's roundup has proved, for the cattle supply is short saddle horses running down the long horns, and it is estimated that the heavier steers can be rounded up with about half the men and horses that were required to corral the fleeter animals.

AMUSEMENTS.

Winter feeding is another elemen-

he could recover the gun the buck rose to its feet and charged him. Chalmers' hands were badly lacerated by the antlers of the deer, but otherwise he is none the worse for his exhausting struggle. He returned here to-day in company with Dr. Charles Oakley, bringing the buck as a trophy.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small dark stain near the top center. A faint horizontal line is visible near the bottom edge, possibly indicating a fold or the edge of the page.

3

trainmaster December 1. Walker will go to Louisville to serve as agent for the Southern railroad. It is expected season, presidents of four Western universities will enlist in a fight for the elimination of the brutal features.

me were required to corral the fleetest animals.
Winter feeding is another element in the struggle. He returned here to-day in company with Dr. Charles Oakley, bringing the buck as a trophy.

New York, Nov. 20.—Sailed: Furnessia, destroying the blockade.
 Mobile, Nov. 20.—Arrived: Steamer, proved a serious impediment to
 New York, Nov. 21.—Arrived: Steamer, tion on many of the Southern ri
 Plymouth, Nov. 21.—Arrived: Steamer, this country.

PERSONAL - Massage and baths. M188
McCLELLAN, 64 4th. Tel. M. 559-A. *
leaves 010 p. m.

m. Lim-
 m. and

